For event hosts

Warm introductions at every booth, from the moment your attendees arrive.

Your exhibitor list becomes a warm introduction for every attendee who scans the code on your badge or booth card. No friction, only value, for three parties.

The attendee

Walks up to a booth already knowing the person's name, company and booth.

The vendor

Gets warm introductions instead of awkward ones, at every conversation.

The host

Gets a sponsorable feature, more attendees and a totals-only report after the event.

The totals your report shows, with example figures

1,284
Code redemptions

412

Every attendee gets their own copy of the roster in their own account. Hosts see totals only, never individual attendee data.
